

Reimagine Leadership, Work Culture, Connection

From Silicon Valley to Second City, Kathy is a speaker, author, comedian and former tech exec on a mission to reimagine work by reclaiming our humor and writing brave new stories.

With a fresh blend of comedy, storytelling and leadership, her talks have engaged audiences laughing, trying new things, and learning new mindsets and narratives about bravery, boldness and agility.

Change happens when we use laughter to take down fear, and lead with empathy. Kathy knows this all too well from 15 years leading tech teams, growing businesses and as an improviser - where leading in the moment matters. She has been featured in Forbes, and Inc.com named her book, "Stop Boring Me!", an Amazon top 10, a must-read for leaders. She founded Keeping it HumanSM in 2010.

Testimonials

"Kathy did an excellent job leading our Daring Leadership training. She brought the lasting power of 'Yes and!' to our team and we've used it ever since. We still talk about it! She is funny, caring and demonstrates everything she teaches."

Sandy C., Amazon AWS

"As closing keynote at AMA Cincinnati's 2018 Ignite CX Conference - A highlight! - Kathy delivered the perfect balance of humor and thought-provoking content in a highly engaging, energetic, relevant presentation. She is exceptional..."

Gina B., American Marketing Association Ignite Conference

"Thank you for your keynote at the Women Center's Leadership Conference 2021. I - and so many others - were inspired by your story. You were insightful and funny - a winning combination. Thank you for sharing yourself with us!"

Rachna K., Women's Center

Kathy Klotz-Guest MA, MBA

Speaker | Author | Comedian

Speaking Topics

- Change is Hard; Humor Isn't. It's Empathy
- Improv Principles for Leading Through Uncertainty
- Women Who Humor Change Work
- Big Laughs: Humor for Resilience

Kathy can also do clean comedy and MC

www.keepingithuman.com

kathy@keepingithuman.com

408-578-8040